As the College follows the Syllabus and Curriculum of Calcutta University there is no scope of curriculum development. However every department has its own academic calendar to run and complete the syllabus.

However, teachers take part in meeting of the Board of Studies from time to time as invitees. Few faculty members also participate in University curriculum development as member of Board of Studies.

6.3.2 Teaching and Learning

Although the syllabi are framed not by the college but by the affiliating university, each department adopts some innovative processes in teaching and learning.

1. For quality improvement in the teaching learning process we adopt the strategies of one to one contact session, interactive class, solving of previous years questions.

6.3.3 Examination and Evaluation

1. Some departments conduct periodical tests & class tests. The examined papers are shown to the students and the guardians are informed about the progress of students in the Parent-Teacher meetings.
2. Mid-Term and Test examinations are held for all the departments and for students of all the years.
3. A group of teachers (Examination sub-committee) conducts the university examinations. The appointed teachers take part in paper setting, paper examiners, scrutiny, head examiners etc and act as per university guidelines.

Best practices - I

1. Title of the practice:

Decentralization of administrative works.

2. Goal:

The aim of the practice is to cater to the students with best possible service regarding official works. In principle, the institute reckons that students are here to learn and thus wants them to devote most of their presence in college to their studies only. But some official works such as applying for scholarships, collecting railway concessions, university admit cards are essential and a majority of students remain engaged in these works, thereby losing academic hour. The practice of decentralization of these type of administrative works are initiated to help the students being more committed to their studies.

3. The context:

In recent years, there is a huge rush of admission in all streams while no recruitment has taken place in terms of administrative staffs. Under this circumstances, it is a real challenge to this institute to serve the large volume of students with such minor staff strength in office. Often it is seen that a huge queue is formed by the students just to get their identity cards or admit cards. Many important academic activities are lost in this way. The issuance of scholarships as well as other type of concessions are another mode of activity which requires decentralization as it is not possible for a single person to keep track of all these type of works.

4. The Practice:

This practice of decentralization of official work is introduced from 2011 onwards to overcome the difficulties faced due to the immense increase of student strength. It is being implemented by division of responsibilities to respective departments. Issue of admit cards as well as other examination related documentation are taken care of by the departmental staffs as well as faculty members. The scholarship schemes and issuance of concessions are served by designated committees formed with faculty members.

5. Evidence of success:

Institute considers it to be a success as students are getting information and service through a very orchestrated way. Teaching hours of students are not lost due to these type of official works. The students are not forced to waste their valuable time before examination.

6. Problems encountered and Resources required:

Main problem for this decentralization work is maintaining co-ordination between various departments as well as monitoring the work done at different levels. Some of the departments do not have adequate staff strength to cater to the need of their students.

7. Notes:

Decentralization of the administrative works to the efficient and collective body results in clean and transparent administrative system with much reliability. The stake holder specially the staff members get the opportunity for direct involvement in all round development of the college.

Best practices – II

1. Title of the practice:

Student Education Support Scheme (SESS)

2. Goal:

Aim of this practice is to cater to the financially weak students to help them continue their academic activities. It is in principle a commitment of the institute to arrange for financial support to the needy candidates so that they are able to pursue higher studies.

3. The context:

The college is situated beside Sealdaha station and many of the students are from poor families of this state. It is necessary for them to receive some sort of financial assistance to carry on with their academic activity. There are various Government and non-government schemes which can help them in this regard. As the number of students coming from lower income group is more, so it is really a complicated problem for addressing their acute hardship and the college has to face a challenging problem.

4. The Practice:

The college has a “Students Aid Fund Committee” comprising representatives of teachers and students. It invites application from the poor, meritorious students with proper supporting documents. After screening, the committee selects a number of selected students and distribute cheques among them. Due to financial constraints limited number of students has benefitted. The college has also granted free-ship to some students from its own fund.

5. Evidence of success:

Due to this financial support many students are getting the scope to pursue for higher studies. Some of them have been graduated as a result of this practice.

6. Problems encountered and Resources Required:

The college and the Teachers' Body have to face a lot of problems in generating the Fund to a desired level. Moreover, the number of students from lower income group is also high. So, the quantum of support is not sufficient.

7. Notes:

In India many families are still below poverty line and at the same time literacy rate is not satisfactory. In this context, more financial support from any organisation may catalyse the process.
